

10 Fine with Garlic

Nature has it right™

Redmond's 10 Fine with Garlic uses your cattle's natural cravings for salt and other minerals to administer fly repellent in an extremely convenient method of pest control. Instead of coercing reluctant animals and endlessly rotating pest treatments, you can simply serve up a delicious spread of natural garlic mineral salt, and let the animals do the work.

Pest Prevention + Minerals

Simplify your operation by offering your herd their minerals and pest repellent at the same time! 10 Fine with Garlic naturally repels flies, ticks, and other biting pests while providing your animals with the delicious sea minerals they love.

Won't Lose Efficacy

Animals don't develop a resistance to garlic, like they do with other chemical pest treatments. So you can ditch your repellent charts with lists of active ingredients and calendars, and get back to what you really love about raising animals.

Doesn't Taint Milk Flavor

Our customers happily tell us that consuming 10 Fine with Garlic does not affect the taste of their animals' milk.

Boost Production + Save $

Reducing biting pests within your herd improves the health of your animals and the health of your budget. Whether your operation relies on cattle weight or milk production, horn flies alone can cause huge losses. Investing in fly repellent efforts will lead to beneficial weight gain, boost milk production, and increase the productivity of your operation you really love about raising animals.

Results You Can See

A Redmond customer sent us this photo to show how effective 10 Fine with Garlic really is. After enjoying 10 Fine with Garlic as part of their daily supplement, his herd (on the right) is visibly happy, alert, and fly free.

When a new cow (bottom left) was added to the herd, she had not had a chance to join the others on Redmond's mineral program yet. Her demeanor and the number of flies plaguing her face shows the night and day difference Redmond 10 Fine with Garlic can make!
